

Obtaining & Renewing a License FAQ

FAQ

- How do I apply for or renew my Insurance License?

Each state has different requirements when it comes to applying for or renewing your state insurance license.

Visit your state's Department of Insurance (DOI) website to view the requirements by following the link below and selecting your state:

<http://www.sircon.com/state-information-center/index.html>

- What is Continuing Education?

When renewing your insurance license, some states require that Continuing Education (C.E.) courses be completed. Continuing Education courses review various categories pertaining to the insurance business, such as State Law, Ethics, and Product-Specific topics.

- How do I get C. E. Credits?

The most efficient way to obtain C.E. Credits is by Self-Study Continuing Education courses. Self-Study continuing education courses are correspondence programs available online and by paper, and include a multiple choice final exam that must be passed.

N&F, Inc. has partnered with WebCE, a leading nationwide provider of Continuing Education for insurance professionals to provide you with state-approved self-study CE courses to satisfy your CE requirements online.

You can access the entire course catalog and receive discounted pricing through this partnership. This will enable you to take advantage of the largest nationwide catalog of courses, approved to satisfy state-specific subject requirements, on topics such as ethics, law, annuities, and variable products, and LTC/LTC Partnership training.

Follow the link below to access the N&F, Inc. WebCE portal:

<https://www.webce.com/neishloss>

- When my Insurance License expires, should I send the updated copy to Neishloss & Fleming, Inc. and/or the carriers that I do business with?

When your Insurance License expires, send an updated declaration page to NF_Service@neishloss.com, for our records, and we will also forward the new declaration page to all of the carriers that you do business with on your behalf.